PROFILE

Vancouver

The Waterfront Vancouver

Vancouver is buzzing with life and vitality these days, with new apartment and condo developments, the new Waterfront neighborhood, and a remodel in progress for the office and retail building at the corner of Main Street and Evergreen Boulevard that housed JC Penney years ago. New restaurants, brew pubs and coffee places dot the downtown and uptown neighborhoods, and small locally owned businesses are filling shop space.

The sparkling new waterfront area continues its fast growth and development, with numerous restaurants, wine tasting venues, a waterfront walking area with a water feature for families to enjoy on warm summer days, and the Grant Street Pier that is becoming a photographer’s highlight. There’s more to come, so visit often.

The Vancouver Farmers Market was reconfigured in 2019 and continues to bring in big crowds to wander the booths and find fresh local plants and produce, woodwork, pottery, artwork, and many other locally produced products, along with food and entertainment. The market operates from mid-March through the fall.

Galleries and shops stay open longer on the First Fridays of each month for ArtWalk. It’s a fun evening to meet up with friends, eat out and see new exhibits at the galleries, and get to know downtown. Enjoy antiques, boutiques and brews.

Live, local performances take place at Magenta Theater, at the Kiggins Theater (along with movies), and at many of the dining spots around downtown. Outdoor music is featured at concert series at the centerpiece of the city, Esther Short Park, and at Columbia Tech Center, in July and August. There are frequent weekend festivals at Esther Short Park throughout the summer season.

Vancouver is a special blend of very modern contemporary lifestyles in the new developments, and the historic in some of the older classic neighborhoods, including the centerpiece of Officers Row and the Fort Vancouver National Historic Site. It’s unique to have such a special nationally recognized site right in the heart of the city.

Vancouver’s retail scene extends out to Vancouver Mall, and continues to spread along the corridors of NE 164th and NE 192nd.

Education is a vital part of this community, with the beautiful Clark College campus in the downtown area, a second campus building in east county, and the expansive Washington State University-Vancouver campus just to the north in Salmon Creek.

Attention TEACHERS!

The Popular Serial Stories Are Back!

Once again, The Columbian's Newspaper in Education is teaming up with Peoples CCU to bring you the 2020 serial story

"The Valley of No Return".

This serial story will appear every Tuesday & Thursday in The Columbian starting March 10th - May 14th, 2020

Havasas Canyon, an Arizona branch of the Grand Canyon, is famed for its natural beauty. However, it is less well-known that floods occasionally rampage through the valley on their way to the Colorado River.

Two young people set out one afternoon in the autumn of 1909 to visit "Dead Man's Falls," north of the Supai Village. A prank played on them by a young member of the Havasupais Indian tribe becomes potentially lethal when a flash flood cuts off their return.

For the next several days the pair must endure cold and hunger while attempting to make their way to safety; the situation grows yet more deadly when they discover they are being stalked by a hungry mountain lion.

This is a story of two young people from diverse backgrounds—one, the son of a mining engineer; the other a daughter of the tribal chief whose people are threatened with exile from their ancestral land—and of the lessons learned as they struggle for survival.

PROFILE

Camas

The historic Pittock-Leadbetter House, located along Lacamas Lake

Camas continues to evolve from its origins as a paper mill town to a community that blends open spaces with livable neighborhoods and excellent schools. Established and new business ventures provide employment and stability to the area’s residents.

The beautiful historic downtown area in Camas features tree-lined streets and a variety of locally owned shops and businesses. Spend the day exploring, enjoy dinner at Tommy O’s in the historic Camas Hotel, and then enjoy a movie at the iconic Liberty Theater, a landmark since 1927.

Art galleries and locally owned specialty shops dot Fourth Avenue, nestled into buildings that could tell stories of their own.

In the summer, enjoy Camas Days events, along with summer concerts and movies in the park on warm evenings.

In August, be sure to visit the annual Downtown Camas Vintage and Art Street Faire filling the tree-lined streets of the downtown area.

Fallen Leaf Park, Round Lake and Lacamas Lake are popular destinations for hiking, fishing, and boating that includes kayaks, canoes and paddle boards. Hiking and walking trails at several of the local parks provide birdwatching, native plant and wildlife viewing, quiet waterside strolls, and beautiful views. The trails at Lacamas Park and Lacamas Lake are especially popular.

First Fridays in Camas provide family fun from 5 to 8 p.m. Each First Friday has a theme, so check out the schedule at www.downtowncamas.com.

The city also has a full schedule of community events that span the seasons. This year’s Camas Farmers Market opens June 3 and runs every Wednesday 3 to 7 p.m. through the end of September. Community picnics, car shows, art fairs... something for every interest!

BUSINESS PROFILE

Sprout Digital

In the current online environment, businesses need more than a flashy website and a few keyword placements. A website that is mobile-responsive, well-designed, and optimized for search engines is extremely important for a successful online presence.

That's where Sprout Digital comes in.

"We are a full-service digital marketing agency," says Kristeen Millett, Manager of Sprout Digital. "We can develop a website from scratch, or rebuild an outdated website. We offer businesses the online tools they need to compete in the digital world."

A division of The Columbian Newspaper, Sprout Digital has been in operation for 9 years providing website design and digital advertising.

The Sprout Team has grown over the last few years and so has its services. Clients today partner with Sprout to provide their businesses with:

- Search Engine Optimization (SEO)
- Search Engine Marketing (SEM)
- Programmatic Advertising
- Online Reputation Management
- Content Production
- Social Media Marketing
- User Experience design (UX)
- Customer Targeting and Retargeting

"Well-designed websites are certainly important when it comes to online marketing," says Millett, "but don't forget you have to get people to visit your website. With keyword research, market analysis, and testing, we can create a marketing media mix to drive people to your website. By making sure your website offers what they were looking for, you can turn searches into customers."

When it comes to SEO, the first and last name is Google. Every business competes for Google to place their website in a favorable position above their competition. Sprout Digital is a Google partner; Sprout Digital team members have completed Google Marketing Courses and received AdWords, Google Analytics, Tag Manager, and mobile website certifications. To improve their website SEO rankings the Sprout Digital team actively monitors each client's website.

Millett's team is always researching to keep up with industry trends, is following industry experts and looking for ways to improve their clients' visibility and keep them a step ahead of the competition.

This extends beyond the website; Sprout Digital offers several digital marketing programs that can extend their clients' reach well beyond their websites. Through programmatic advertising, Sprout Digital allows them to target potential customers using demographics, locations, habits and interests.

"With targeted digital advertising, Sprout Digital can pinpoint customers near you looking

A digital marketing team with expertise in the following areas:

- Website Design & Development
- Web Hosting
- Search Engine Optimization
- Search Engine Marketing
- Programmatic Advertising (Audience Targeting)
- Online Reputation Management
- Content Production
- Social Media
- User Experience

for services you offer at the time of day they need those services," says Millett.

Operating out of The Columbian newspaper office building in downtown Vancouver, Sprout

Digital is locally accessible. While many conversations can be held over the phone or via email, the ability to have a face-to-face discussion with their customers is a nice perk that nationally-based digital marketing agencies can't offer.

"I think our ability to meet with our clients in their place of business gives us a unique perspective," says Millett. "We are a local, trusted company and our customers appreciate being able to talk face to face with someone who really cares about the health of their business and is invested in this community."

PROFILE

Battle Ground

Heisen House Vineyards' historic barn

Battle Ground is the town named for a battle that never happened! An 1855 encounter between Capt. William Strong's group of men from Fort Vancouver, and members of the Klickitat tribe led by Chief Umtuch, ended with the unsolved death of Chief Umtuch but an agreement between the parties involved that avoided a battle.

Battle Ground’s shopping opportunities continue to evolve and grow. They combine the best of locally owned shops and boutiques, especially numerous in Old Town Battle Ground, and larger regional shopping opportunities for the necessities of life.

Vintage stores along Main Street provide a great way to spend a leisurely afternoon of browsing, stopping for coffee or a treat at one of the eateries along the way. Buy that special locally made gift item or a new feature for your home and garden.

Wine plays a role in the Battle Ground agricultural economy. Visit some of the best wineries in the region, including Heisen House, Dolio, Rusty Grape, Emanar Cellars, Olequa Cellars, Rezabek, and Mended Oak.

Interested in native plants or want to learn what grows well in our climate? Visit the Naturescaping Wildlife Botanical Gardens just south of Battle Ground in Brush Prairie. Volunteers maintain over three acres of themed gardens that are designed to attract wildlife and birds. It’s a peaceful place filled with secret places that are perfect inspiration for the artist within you.

The 280-acre Battle Ground Lake State Park offers camping, hiking, biking, horse trails and a primitive equestrian camping area, boating, and other recreational opportunities, all beside a spring-fed lake that is popular for swimming and is stocked with trout for fishing.

Lewisville Regional Park is the oldest park in Clark County, covering 159 acres of picnic grounds, walking trails, East Fork Lewis River access, recreation areas, and a 2.8 mile walking trail. The park was developed by the Works Progress Administration during the Great Depression, and is on the National Register of Historic Places.

Ridgefield

The Big Paddle on Lake River

Ridgefield combines the best of small town American spirit with outstanding recreational opportunities, the natural beauty of the river, and a growing community. Ridgefield continues to grow, with new shopping and dining opportunities and community activities, but still maintains the small-town feel that is the town’s trademark.

Last year’s debut season of the Ridgefield Raptors Baseball team at the Ridgefield Outdoor Recreation Complex was a soaring success. Season 2 opens on Thursday June 4, and continues through mid-August. Take in a game on a warm summer evening!

History and wildlife are hallmarks of Ridgefield. The massive Ridgefield National Wildlife Refuge is a special place for birdwatching, walking, and experiencing nature. Enjoy Birdfest in October, and the special programs about history and Native American culture presented at the Cathlapotle Plank House.

Take the time to visit the Oaks to Wetlands Trail in the northern end of the refuge. The newly revised trail leads through indigenous oak woods undergoing restoration through careful management and hard work. For more information on these projects, visit www.refuge2020.info.

The Farmers Market is held on Saturdays, May through early October in the downtown area. Check out this market for fresh locally grown produce, locally produced edible products, soaps, and some art, too.

Ridgefield First Saturdays are fun-filled for the whole family. They feature a variety of activities and entertainment, including art displays, athletic events, pop-up events, sidewalk sales, outdoor concerts, and food.

The Big Paddle on June 6, 2020 celebrates National Trails Day with paddle tours on Lake River, as well as a riverside walk and festive activities downtown. The July 4 celebration includes an old-fashioned parade, fun, and a street dance.

Want some wine? Ridgefield is the place for that, with vineyards that include Bethany, Confluence, Gouger Cellars, Stavalaura, Three Brothers and Windy Hills. Koi Pond Cellars’ site in Ridgefield is open only by appointment, but they have a tasting room in downtown Vancouver with regular hours.

In August, don’t miss the huge 10-day Clark County Fair, a family event for all ages and interests. The Event Center at the Fairgrounds has a year-round schedule of special exhibits and events. The adjoining Sunlight Supply Amphitheater has a full schedule of big name entertainment for 2020, from mid-May through the end of September.

PROFILE

Washougal

Washougal Waterfront Park

Washougal is the gateway to the Columbia Gorge, so stop in town on your way east to visit the Gorge. Downtown hosts community events all year around, and over 30 eateries and coffee shops dot the area. Downtown Washougal continues to change, with small businesses, eateries and breweries, and new businesses emerging.

The Washougal Arts & Culture Alliance presents an annual outdoor art festival in August, and works to enrich the community with public, locally produced artwork.

Lunchmoney Indoor Skatepark opened in February 2020, providing an indoor skateboard and scooter environment for all ages and abilities.

Visitors to the Northwest will want to experience a guided mill tour at the Pendleton Woolen Mills, followed by some shopping at the company’s outlet store adjacent to the parking lot. Just across the street, learn about the history of this area at the Two Rivers Heritage Museum.

Parker’s Landing Historical Park, adjacent to Marina Park, commemorates David C. Parker, on whose Donation Land Claim this site is located.

Walking adventures might begin by using the pedestrian tunnel at the edge of the Pendleton parking lot to access the dike trail. The tunnel itself is lined with art depicting some of the history of the area, and the Lewis & Clark Heritage Trail on the dike features art installations that recall the explorers and their visit to this area.

Steigerwald National Wildlife Refuge and William Clark Regional Park feature great walking and birdwatching, along with outdoor art tucked into the natural areas. Abundant Columbia River access includes Cottonwood Beach, the Waterfront Park, and the Port of Camas/Washougal Marina for boaters.

Just a few miles east of Washougal is the Cape Horn Trail, a 7.2 mile loop that dips into the valley at river level and climbs to 1350 feet elevation. Be aware that the lower portion of this loop is closed from Feb. 1 to July 15 to protect nesting peregrine falcons. Enjoy the breathtaking views of the river and Mount Hood.

Washougal presents an Independence Day celebration that includes live music, food, and of course, fireworks. It’s a great place to celebrate the 4th, usually held at Waterfront Park.

Pomeroy Living History Farm

ilani Casino Resort

North County is rural, dotted with small communities. If you want to explore, follow the 70-mile North Clark County Scenic Drive. You will visit rural areas, farm and forest, waterfalls, parks, and places to hike or picnic.

To the west of the freeway at the La Center exit, visit the ilani Casino Resort, a premier gaming, dining and entertainment resort. Live entertainment and excellent dining choices enhance your experience, and their event venue accommodates 2,500 guests.

Woodland blooms in the spring, featuring the fragrant pastel beauty of lilacs at the historic Hulda Klager Lilac Gardens and Museum. It's the only time of year when the museum is open to the public, and the gardens are beautiful. The bright and cheerful colors of tulips come into bloom at the Holland America Flower Gardens in Woodland. There's a garden store as well as you-pick fields to enjoy.

Woodland is the southern gateway to explore Mount St. Helens, as well as the wonderful recreation areas of the Gifford Pinchot National Forest and the Lewis River.

Yacolt boasts rural farmlands, forests and rivers. Watch steelhead leaping up the waterfalls at Lucia Falls Regional Park, and hike the trails near Moulton Falls Regional Park. Check out Pomeroy Living History Farm for their seasonal events that are open to the public, including pumpkin season, holiday events and more.

The Cedar Creek Grist Mill is an historic landmark dating back to 1876. Friends of the Cedar Creek Grist Mill, all volunteers, host free public events to show the operation of the mill and explain what it meant to the communities nearby. Their fall cider pressing is a crowd pleaser. Nearby, visitors can experience crossing a covered bridge spanning Cedar Creek.

Visit the North County Historical Museum located in a 1910 renovated church in Amboy, open Saturday afternoons, to learn more about the area's rural roots.

Chelatchie Prairie Railroad is a tourist train ride that chugs through the countryside of North County. They feature special rides for nearly every holiday from Mother's Day through Christmas, and operate most weekends. Check out the website at www.bycx.org for this year's schedule.

SINCE 1890

- The first issue of The Columbian was published October 10, 1890. A 4-page weekly paper at the time, it bore little resemblance to today's version of The Columbian.
- Daily publication began for the first time October 19, 1908.
- The first Sunday edition was published in June 1972, and the first Saturday morning edition was added in July of 1999.
- In 1921 Herbert Campbell purchased the paper and The Columbian has remained in the Campbell family ever since.
- Scott Campbell, Herbert's grandson, is the present owner and publisher.
- Technology has transformed the newspaper business. Hand-set type has given way to laser printing, black and white engravings to digital photography and full color images.
- Constant for 130 years is The Columbian's commitment to be our communities' most valued source of information.

We Are Vancouver. We Volunteer!

The City of Vancouver relies on thousands of volunteers to help make our city a great place to live, work and play.

"I thought [volunteering] would be healthy, social and fun. It was and it still is. I've made great friends who I vacation with, and I've met some first-class people. Volunteering is the best thing I could've done."

DUKE SILVA (a.k.a. The Legend)

Superstar volunteer Duke Silva has volunteered with Vancouver Parks and Recreation's 50 and Better Program since 2005.

As a volunteer, Duke plans and leads hikes for the Forever Young Hikers program, and plans trips and drives the van for the 50+ Travel program.

If you have a passion for traveling or hiking around Washington and Oregon and have the time to share that passion with others, the 50 and Better Program needs you! Volunteer trip planners, hike leaders and van drivers are needed. Let's go!
